The School Year Begins...

Fall is officially here and our summer has run away. I knew going into the summer that it wouldn't last long, but it still amazes me how fast time can fly by. As a leadership team we are excited about the school year starting, but I think the students could wait a few more months! We have finished up all our retreats for 2010 and praise the Lord they all went great! God has been so good to our church and our youth group this past year and we are excited about jumping into a new one. Let us stay faithful to the Lord, and remain daily on our knees before Him!

Sincerely,
